The Panama Canal is an American know how accomplishment. The French tried to build it but failed miserably. The Canal has two different Locks, one enters from the Atlantic side called Gatun and the other entering from the Pacific Side, Mira Flores Lock. The large Gatun Lake is in the middle of the canal providing the needed water for the locks. The Guillard Cut is where the earth was hand dug creating a canal to the Mira Flores Locks. Malaria was rampant and killed many workers.
